

The American Consulate General in Jerusalem Announces The Emerging Global Leaders Initiative (EGLI)-Atlas Corps Fellowship

The American Consulate General in Jerusalem and the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) is pleased to announce a special opportunity for merging civil society leaders to participate in a 6-18 month professional fellowship in the United States. All Fellows will be placed at a leading social change organization in the United States. Individuals in the nonprofit/NGO sectors with two or more years of experience, a college degree and English proficiency are encouraged to apply. To apply and to find out more information, please visit <http://apply.atlascorps.org>.

The EGLI-Atlas Corps Fellowship is typically 12-months long and starts three times a year, in January, May and September. Fellows will serve full-time for 6 to 18 months at leading organizations throughout the United States to share skills and learn new perspectives on best practices in nonprofit leadership, including social entrepreneurship, social media, monitoring and evaluation, and development. Fellows will also participate in 200 hours of Global Leadership Lab—in person and virtual training on the key principles of nonprofit management. The goals of the EGLI-Atlas Corps Fellowship are to: Provide leadership development training for rising civil society leaders; develop the skills of nonprofit professionals, especially women, youth and leaders working on social issues, to share best practices of nonprofit management, to build ties between civil society leaders in the United States and countries around the world.
